

WILSON WIELDS THE VETO POWER

President Refuses to Sanction Literacy Test Clause in Immigration Bill and Explains His Attitude in Unmistakable Terms—Bill to be Passed Over President's Veto.

By Associated Press.

Washington, January 28.—President Wilson vetoed the Immigration bill today and sent a special message to Congress saying he disapproved the measure because of the literacy test and other restrictive tests.

The President said in his message that he regretted the fact that he could not sign the bill and said he considered it a serious matter to exercise the power of veto, because it involves opposing the single judgment against the judgment of the majority of both houses.

He asserted the bill was a radical departure from the traditional policy of the country in two particulars of vital consequence: First, by closing the gates to "those who could find nowhere else the right and opportunity of constitutional agitation for what they conceive to be the natural and inalienable rights of man; and secondly, by excluding those to whom opportunities of elementary education have been denied, without regard to their character."

The much disputed literacy test would provide "all aliens over 16 years of age, physically capable of reading, who cannot read the English language or some other language of dialect, including Hebrew, or Yiddish, shall be excluded from the United States."

Exempted, however, are those who prove they emigrated to escape religious persecution and any admittance of alien might bring in his father, grandfather, over 55, his wife, mother, grandmother or unmarried or widowed daughter who cannot read. Representative Burnett, who was active in securing passage of the bill, stated that he would move a reconsideration and that it would be re-passed over the President's veto.

The veto message was referred to the Immigration committee, from which Mr. Burnett will ask for a reconsideration a week from today.

ARRESTED ON UGLY CHARGE

By Associated Press.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 28.—A. F. Clause, an auto salesman of Youngstown, and Roscoe Winnagle, a lawyer of Warren, Ohio, were placed under arrest here today in connection with the disappearance of $50,000 worth of securities belonging to Grant Jones, an auto dealer of this city.

Clause is charged with larceny and Winnagle with attempted blackmail upon Jones.

Arrests were made after the use of a telephonic device in Winnagle's office by the police.

ANOTHER PRESIDENT IN FLIGHT

By Associated Press.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The flight of Roque Gonzales Garza, acting head of the government at Mexico City since the departure of Gen. Gutierrez, was officially reported today to the State Department by American Consul Silliman.

With Garza went a number of other officials to establish a temporary state of government at Cuernavaca, a short distance south of Mexico City.

A dispatch to the Carranza agency here from Mexico City said the Carranza troops were four miles outside of Mexico City and that Zapata forces were evacuating, going toward Cuernavaca.

PANAMA OPENING DELAYED

Washington, Jan. 28.—Formal opening ceremony at the Canal probably will be postponed from March to July and President Wilson will go to San Francisco by rail in March and to Panama later, when the naval review will be held.

Although no formal announcement of the change in plans has been made the President has taken up the question with Secretary Daniels.

The report of Governor Goethals that he could not guarantee passage of warships at the original time set for the formal opening is understood to have been chiefly instrumental in bringing about the change.

MOTHER JONES SEES INJUSTICE

By Associated Press.

New York, Jan. 28.—"Mother" Jones, the aged strike leader, in a statement today, termed the scheme of collective bargaining recently inaugurated by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company of Colorado, as a "hypocritical and dishonest pretense."

She said, however, that she did not believe John D. Rockefeller, Jr., understood this and she expressed the hope that he would go to Colorado, "while the ashes of Ludlow are still hot," so that he might see for himself and understand the entire situation.

MINERS AND OPERATORS ON A DEADLOCK

By Associated Press.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 28.—"We positively will sign no contract which calls for less than 47 cents a ton on a run of mine basis," said Wm. Green, secretary of the international organization of the miners, just before the operators of the eastern Ohio coal fields and miners' officials went into joint conference here today.

Operators were emphatic in their statements that they would not pay more "than the equivalent of last year's scale," which is less than the demands of the miners.

COPENHAVER TO GIVE ADDRESS AT COMING MEETING

Word received by Secretary Patton of the Y. M. C. A. from Paul C. Martin, prominent Springfield attorney and member of the Y. M. C. A. State Executive Committee who was to have addressed the Fathers' and Sons' banquet here February 3, is to the effect that he will be unable to fill the engagement because of trouble with his throat.

Mr. Patton, on receipt of the letter, immediately secured the services of Mr. W. E. Copenhaver, general manager of the Bauer Bros. Co., big machine manufacturer of Springfield, and a capable speaker.

In connection with the Fathers' and Sons' banquet, Y. M. C. A. officials wish it understood that each father is to be accompanied by a son, and vice versa, relationship unnecessary, and that the fathers must be adults and the sons between the ages of 16 and 20 years, since the purpose is to bring the younger and older members together.

The banquet will begin at 6:15 p. m., sharp, and will be served by a committee from the Women's Auxiliary. Musical features will be provided by the Boys' orchestra.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR SPECIAL SERVICES

The First Presbyterian church is preparing for a great series of meetings next week, when Rev. Mont R. Sawyer, D. D., pastor of the Avondale church, Cincinnati, and a noted divine, will preach every afternoon and evening.

On Sunday the church begins active preliminary work and an "every member canvass" will be conducted by the elders, each of whom heads a group for personal work to draw out the entire membership.

Dr. Sawyer arrives on Monday. Mr. C. B. Hoover, of the Bell Telephone Company will install a telephone in the church, with special transmitter carrying the message from the pulpit, so that those prevented from attending may have the benefit of the meetings by means of phone service.

PRAYER MEETINGS TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Cottage prayer meetings will be held at the following homes, Friday afternoon at 2:30, and all persons in the respective localities are urged to attend:

Market; Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Market; Mrs. Robert Dunn, Temple; Mrs. Ella Miser, Lakeview; Mrs. T. K. Perdue, Leesburg; Mrs. Charles Gerstner, Paint street; Mrs. Henry Brownell, Rawling; Mr. Henry Baker, N. North.

20,000 GERMANS ARE KILLED IN THREE DAYS, SAY FRENCH

By Associated Press.

Paris, Jan. 28.—The French War Office statement today announces that every German attack was repulsed and that every French attack made progress. It estimates German losses in the last three days at 20,000 and asserts that ground was won by the allies in Upper Alsace and near Craonne.

The German statement says that the French were defeated in Upper Alsace, fleeing in disorder at two points, and that at Craonne another long section of trenches of the allies was captured.

By Associated Press.

London, January 28.—The Carpathian passes in western Galicia, Egypt and the Caucasus, by reason of the sudden offensive of armies heretofore defeated, are again to the fore today as the chief areas of interest in the military operations.

In the Carpathians a big force of Austro-Germans has been concentrated and is fighting not only to stem the invasion of Hungary but, if possible, to cut off the Russian forces occupying Bukovina to the south.

In Egypt the Turkish advance appears really to have begun.

In the Caucasus the shattered Turks have more or less reorganized and paused in their flight toward their own frontier and resumed the offensive.

Both Vienna and Petrograd emphasize the importance of the Austrian operations in the Carpathians. The Austrians claim the recapture of certain mountain passes and Petrograd concedes that the Austrians have thrown fresh men into this region and are evincing activity along the entire Galacian front.

Turkish advance scouts are virtually at the edge of the Suez Canal, having moved along the caravan route near the Mediterranean. It is believed that another column plans to advance through the center of the peninsula while perhaps a third will attempt to reach Suez along the southerly route from Akabah.

It is believed here that the Turks who have been in contact with the British to the east of El Kantara worked their way westward under the protection of the sand dunes. This would leave themselves open only to attack by aeroplanes from the sea.

Desperate fighting marked yesterday, the anniversary of Emperor William's birthday at many points on the western front. Generally speaking, the allies say the German attacks were costly failures while the Germans assert that the French and British, but notably the British, attacks in Flanders broke down.

WILL VETO ALIEN BILL

Washington, Jan. 28.—President Wilson's veto of the Immigration bill is expected in Congress with a special message, giving as the reason for his disapproval the literacy test which it proposes as a condition of entry to the United States.

Two hours of argument at White House yesterday with senators and representatives of the congressional committee which handled the measure left the president unshaken in his belief that a literacy test is not a true test of the quality of an immigrant for citizenship.

WILL WALK OFF SKYSCRAPER ROOF

Washington, Jan. 28.—A man will step off the roof of the Munsey building, one of the tallest buildings in Washington, on Friday at 12:30 o'clock. He guarantees to alight on the pavement, eleven stories below, without as much of a jar as a man stepping off a curb.

Walter E. Mack, who is to accomplish the "stunt," as he calls it, will use a device only six inches in diameter and which weighs only six pounds. He claims this machine will automatically lower him to the ground at a uniform speed of 5 feet a second. And he weighs about 185 pounds.

There are two life belts on the cable which Mack will use to prove the reversible feature of his invention. He claims it is the only panic-proof fire escape in existence.

He plans to attach the steel case, containing the sheave wheel, to the flag pole atop the Munsey building, throw out the reeled cable, place the life belt under his arms and step off into space.

A Tartar Courtship.

Among the Tuhulan Tartars a curious mode of "popping the question" exists. The Tuhulan bachelor in search of a wife, having filled a brand new pipe with fragrant tobacco, stealthily enters the dwelling of the fair one upon whom he has bestowed his affections, deposits the pipe upon a conspicuous article of furniture and retires on tiptoe to some convenient hiding place in the neighborhood, local etiquette requiring that he should execute this strategic movement apparently undetected by the damsel of his choice or any other member of her family. Presently he returns without further affectation of secrecy and looks into the apartment in a casual sort of way. A single glance at the pipe he left behind him enables him to learn the fate of his proposal. If it has been smoked he goes forth an accepted and exultant bridegroom; if not, the offer of his hand and heart has been rejected.

Misconduct of Public Officials

Every man selected to a position of public trust owes it to the public to maintain a proper deportment in his private as well as his official life. No man who indulges vicious habits and is guilty of reprehensible conduct in private life is fit to serve the people in a public trust, no matter how clean his official life may be.

The public is not always exact in discriminating between official conduct and personal conduct. There is and should be a certain dignity and respect attaching to public office which cannot exist if the individual who holds that office is guilty of wrong-doing in private life.

Any public official who cannot behave himself and demean himself properly in his personal conduct, while holding public office should be denied the privilege of holding office.

The people have a right to demand of their servants that they do not disgrace themselves by their conduct in public, even though they act purely in a personal capacity.

In the public mind the individual and the office he holds are not often separated and misconduct of the individual cannot help but create a contempt for the office and to strengthen a tendency, too marked already, among many people to regard the holding of a public office as a license to do wrong in private life.

Officials are necessarily in the line of public vision a great deal and there are always a number of people anxiously watching for some act to criticize. It is a difficult task at best for public officials to escape unjust censure. Public officials are regarded by too many people as the proper subjects of abuse and the over-indulgence of a desire to abuse public officials will in itself, unless soon checked, do much to bring official positions into disrespect.

Public officials can do much to check this tendency to abuse everybody and anybody holding public office, by behaving themselves both in official and in private life, the latter no less than the former.

Criticism of public officials has now reached a state which is fair to result disastrously to the public service unless it is stopped. Men who have any regard for their reputations and for the feelings of their family and friends, even now, hesitate to accept public position so free are many people with their abuse.

Any official who encourages or, in a measure, justifies this inclination to abuse public servants, by reprehensible conduct, even in private life, should be driven from the public service.

For Smaller Legislatures

Only a few months ago when a movement for a smaller legislature was inaugurated it met with the pronounced disapproval and incurred the violent opposition of so many people that the sponsors of the movement dropped it before it was fairly well started.

It is probable, in view of the growing sentiment which now exists in favor of a smaller legislature, that the hostility which greeted the suggestion only a few months ago, was due more to the forces back of the movement than to the proposal that the state have a smaller legislature.

Of course there is the argument that the danger of control, by vicious interests, of the smaller legislature is greater than it is in the larger body. And then too, there is the difficulty with the smaller legislature of balancing the representation of the rural districts—the less populous regions—with the densely populated cities of the state.

Both of these objections to the smaller legislature are entitled to grave consideration. On the other hand the General Assembly as at present constituted—fifty senators and one hundred and ten members of the house—is so large as to be unwieldy. So large a body is almost certain to contain, especially in view of the present tendency to regulate everything by legislative enactment a number of ultra radicals bent on gaining popularity by appealing to the irresponsible element through the medium of a suggested law.

The people of Ohio have been regulated and controlled by laws until they are disgusted and they are fast coming to the conclusion that much annoyance would be escaped if fewer laws and more responsible men were sent to the law-making body of the state.

Several other states—agricultural states—are considering seriously the matter of reducing the number of members in the legislative body. Iowa has already done so and the new order is working admirably, too.

If the movement for a smaller legislature was again launched in Ohio and backed by the proper influences, so as to secure a just representation to all sections and of all interests, it is safe to say that it would meet with much more cordial reception than it did before. More men of influence would be found advocating such a movement now than was the case only a few months ago.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Diphtheria.
Diphtheria sometimes begins in a very mild way. Nature does not always give a loud warning of danger. Unrecognized nasal diphtheria of a mild type is largely responsible for the outbreaks of this disease in schools, institutions and communities. It is important therefore to be on one's guard at the first sign of a sore throat with fever, especially when the disease is prevalent. Send for a doctor and have him take a culture in throat and nose in season. This means of preventing the growth and spread of diphtheria is usually within easy reach of all. Do not neglect it.

Some of the Western and Northwestern states report the coldest weather of the winter. The Dakotas report 40 below at some points. Minnesota northern points have 38 below, with prospects for still colder before morning. Iowa, Nebraska and Wisconsin report as low as 20 below and sinking rapidly tonight.

MAMMOTH AERATORS.

How the Water in the Catskill Aqueduct Will Be Purified.

The great Catskill aqueduct of New York city is to have two immense aerators. One is to be at Ashokan, where the water can be purified before it enters the aqueduct, and the other at Kensico, where the water will be purified a second time just before it reaches New York city.

The second aerator will be in the center of a three acre basin, 400 feet long and 240 feet wide in the widest part. Into the floor are set, in row after row, 1,000 nozzles, each of which will throw a jet of water from fifteen to twenty feet high. The jets will strike each other and thus break up the water into clouds of spray and bring every drop into contact with the air and help free it of impurities.

This thorough ailing will be especially beneficial in the autumn, when the water from the lakes and ponds is likely to have an unpleasant taste, owing to the presence in it of microscopic vegetation.—Youth's Companion.

SEEK THE BRIGHT SPOTS.

Don't Grouch in the Gloom, but Look Up and Be an Optimist.

He who thinks the world is full of good people and kindly blessings is much richer than he who thinks the contrary. Each man's imagination largely peoples the world for himself. Some live in a world peopled with princes of the royal blood; some in a world of paupers and privation. You have your choice.

This is a big, busy world. It cares precious little what you think of it or what faults or troubles you find in it. It is a choice that concerns yourself more than all others combined, whether you grouch in the gloom, the companion of hateful goblins, or stride in the sunshine, seeing smiles and catching shreds of song.

Men and women in God's image were not made as whining, groveling beings. They were made to stand erect, mentally as well as physically; to labor well and joyously; to take the gifts of providence, whether they be joy or sorrow, and bear them cheerfully and with courage; to add ever something to the world's store of happiness, if it be only a smile.

Look up! See how flooded with sunshine this beautiful world is when faced with smiling eyes.

If you would win anything, do anything, be anything, don't whine.—Christian Herald.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

COMMITTEE GREATLY PLEASED WITH INCANDESCENT SYSTEM

Local Councilmen Visit Evansville, Indiana. Inspecting New Street Lighting System, and Expect to Light Washington Better Than Ever Before at Less Cost—Alley Lights a Feature of the System.

A committee of councilmen, consisting of M. Tracey, P. Tracey, Howell and Sheets, accompanied by Service Director Gerstner, were guests of Mr. G. N. Clapp, of the Washington Gas & Electric Company, on a trip to Evansville, Ind., this week to inspect the new incandescent lighting system in that city and the party returned Wednesday evening very much impressed with the system inspected, and it is stated that a similar system will be recommended for this city when the new contract is made within a short time.

The Evansville system lights the town from side to side, using some 1000 candle power incandescents in the most important business section, 600 candle power in other business sections, 250 candle power in the residence districts, and 80 candle power in alley intersections in the main part of the city.

By the above method, according to one of the committeemen, the city is splendidly lighted, and the cost is not excessive. The 1,000 candle lamps cost $55 per year, the 600 candle lamps, $45 per year and the 250 candle power lamps are $27 per year, with the smaller ones corresponding low.

The committee will, in all probability, recommend that the present are lights of all descriptions in this city, be abolished, and incandescent lamps used.

It is believed that very few 1,000 candle power lamps will be required, and that the bulk of the lamps used on the streets will be the 250 candle power, with the 600 candle power scattered about the most important parts, or upon the main thoroughfares.

Lighting the alley intersections in the main part of the city, will, it is claimed, be included in the recommendations, and it is the belief of the committeeman questioned on the lights, that the city can be lighted far better and cheaper than under the old system.

Considerable interest centers in the approaching contract with the Washington Gas Company.

AMERICA ALONE CAN GIVE HELP TO BELGIANS

In connection with the Belgian relief work now going forward in this city and county, those in charge call attention to the fact that America alone of all other nations can furnish relief to the millions of starving civilians in the European war zone.

Speaking along this line one of the relief workers says:

"The civil army we have to feed is greater than the British and French armies combined. Yet we can scrape through on about $6,250,000 worth of food a month."

"It is not generally realized that there still are 7,000,000 persons in Belgium who were virtually entirely dependent for food on the American Relief Commission."

"In all the history of the world there is no precedent for a community of 7,000,000 persons being faced with starvation and deprived by the belligerents of every possible means of self-preservation."

"While the belligerents argued 7,000,000 persons were confronted with actual starvation, but with the formation of the American Relief committee the obstacles in the way of ministering to the wants of the Belgians were overcome and shipments of food were permitted to enter Belgium by way of Rotterdam."

"This relief could not have been given except under the auspices of the neutral commission. We are proud of our thrifty race but we are now at the mercy of the world. If mercy is not accorded us we shall no longer exist."

RUNAWAY JUNE DRAWS RECORD BREAKING CROWDS

The Colonial theater did the biggest business in its history Wednesday when hundreds of persons thronged the popular photoplay house to witness the first installment of the widely-reputed serial, "Runaway June", a clever drama written by George Randolph Chester, famous as the author of the Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford stories, and produced at a great expense by the Mutual Film Corporation, a leading picture play concern.

These serials are being produced at the Colonial every Wednesday evening in collaboration with the Daily Herald, in each Monday issue of which will appear the corresponding installment in story form.

By reading the installments in the Herald on Monday and then witnessing it in photoplay on Wednesday the Washington theatre patrons are afforded a continuous treat. The piece is being acted by an expert cast of performers.

TRIO OF SUSPECTS NABBED NEAR CAR THEY HAD ENTERED

Three men, giving their names as John Huff, Oscar Benson and Bert Inman, all of Pittsburg, were arrested by Chief Moore and Patrolman Bell Thursday afternoon, just after they had left a C. H. & D. freight car in which it is alleged they tried to break into a carton of goods.

The three men were given a short examination and locked up on suspicion of attempted burglary.

The police were notified of the presence of the men in the car of goods, and were soon upon the scene, nabbing the trio near the car.

No goods were missing, but it is claimed that a carton had been broken open, supposedly by one of the trio.

The men will face Mayor Coffey Thursday evening or Friday morning.

NEW HEATING PLANT WILL POPULARIZE GYMNASIUM

The new heating plant, authorized recently by the board of Y. M. C. A. directors and constructed by the Hoppes Manufacturing Company of Springfield, has arrived and is now being installed in the Y. M. C. A. basement, replacing the old plant which has been in the building since its erection.

The new plant is constructed on the most recent lines and will do away with the hot water trouble. It weighs 4500 pounds and is capable of furnishing the entire building with hot water at all times.

The cost of the plant is $200 and this amount has been raised and applied to the purchase. An additional $250 has been secured to defray the cost of installing and to provide radiators for the natatorium and repair on the swimming tank itself, and when all is complete this latter will be ready for use at all times, winter and summer.

With the return of adequate water facilities the gym classes will be resumed in earnest. The frequent lack of hot water in the showers has caused a falling off in the gym attendance recently.

With regard to heating the natatorium there is some debate. It is urged that city heat be provided for this room and it is expected that the final decision will comply with this suggestion.

In Social Circles

The society columns of Thursday morning's Ohio State Journal contained the following announcement of the engagement of two young people belonging to well known families of northern Fayette and Greene county.

The announcement was accompanied by the pictures of the bride and bridegroom elect:

"Interesting news is that of the engagement of Miss Marie Booco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Booco of 'Glennwood Place' in Fayette county, and Mr. Marshall Ensign of 'Westland', Greene county, both of whom have been visiting Mrs. Ella N. Burdell and Mr. Harry Bumgardner of West Fourth avenue. The bride-elect, who has many friends here, attended Wittenberg college and the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, and is a talented musician. Mr. Ensign, an Ohio State University graduate, has recently become interested in acquiring lands in Canada. The wedding will be an event of the early spring."

Mrs. David S. Craig gave a charming informal little tea in compliment to her guest, Miss Jean Bonfoey, of Tipton, Ind., Thursday afternoon.

The guests, chiefly the former friends of Miss Bonfoey, thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity of renewing acquaintances together with the spontaneous hospitality of Mrs. Craig's lovely home.

Mrs. Ella Stewart, of "Parkhurst" left Wednesday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Nolan Hathaway, in Columbus.

A jolly party of High School juniors, including Misses Edith Buckley, Naomi Rowan, Ruth Brownell, Emma Draise, Helen Teters, Emily Palmer, Helen Persinger, Nell Stuckey, Madonna Larrimer, Katharine Forman, and a few additional guests, spent Wednesday evening on one of the most delightful bob sled rides on record. The party put in the entire evening sledding over the snow-covered country, a glistening picture in the bright moonlight.

Mrs. H. C. Hosier hospitably entertained the "500" club Thursday afternoon. A delicious collation was served after the game.

Mrs. George Jackson entertained the Mission Study class Thursday afternoon, serving tea at the close of the study period.

The following excerpt from the Jackson Herald is of interest concerning the Summers-Ridgeway wedding:

On Tuesday evening Miss Osa Ridgeway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ridgeway, was married to Mr. Carl Summers, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Summers, by Rev. Dudley at the Christian parsonage. The ceremony was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Graham of Lebanon, South Dakota, an uncle and aunt of the groom.

The bride is one of Jackson's most accomplished and estimable young ladies. She is a talented musician and has been the musical leader at the Christian church for some time. In recent years she has been employed in the office of the Summers Music concern of Jackson and of which her husband is an owner. Mr. Summers, the groom, is a popular young man of Jackson, is widely known in his chosen work and has quite a reputation as a musical composer. The young couple left Tuesday evening for Cincinnati on a week's honeymoon trip. They will return by way of Chicago to their furnished home at Washington C. H.

The Herald joins many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Summers in wishing them all the happiness and success of married life.

LOWER COURT IS AFFIRMED

John A. Paul originally brought action against W. A. Badger et al. for judgment in the sum of $971.14, on promissory notes, and the lower court returned a judgment of $877.24 in favor of the plaintiff.

The case was then carried to the Court of Appeals, and the decision has just reached clerk of courts, E. W. Durlinger. The decision makes some comment upon the unusual number of verdicts offered by the jury before one was presented in a manner which the court deemed acceptable, but found no irregularity in the decision of the lower court.

Rankin and Rankin represented the plaintiff, and F. A. Chaffin, the defendant.

"I'll do nothing of the sort. How can we tell that the soul of some of our dead friends has not passed into that dog and returned to the earth again?"

"Nonsense!"

"You may sneer and sneer, but there are thousands who believe in transmigration. I'm almost a believer myself."

THERE WAS A MIXUP FOR A FEW SECONDS.

Hear that howl? There's something about it to remind me of the voice of some one who I have known. I won't do any driving away until I've had a look at the animal."

Mr. Bowser put on his hat and passed out. The dog sat at the gate and was getting ready for another howl, but choked it off into a whine as the door opened. As no clubs were thrown or cuss words used he made bold to jump the fence and enter the yard. He was a long, lank, ill used bantam dog who had evidently cut loose from home and was freeloading around the country. Mr. Bowser was about to utter a yell and scare the canine out of a year's growth when Mrs. Bowser spoiled it all by opening the door and demanding:

"Well, why don't you drive him away, or has he turned out to be an old friend of yours?"

Mr. Bowser snapped his fingers, and as the dog came trotting up the steps he was ushered into the hall and through to the sitting room. The family cat was lying under a chair and seemed asleep, but it didn't take her over the thousandth part of a second to wake up and light on that intruder. There was a mixup for a few seconds, during which Mrs. Bowser ran up stairs. Mr. Bowser got a chair, and cat and dog rolled over each other on the floor. Then the cat flew upstairs after Mrs. Bowser, and the dog sat down and looked at Mr. Bowser and waited for further instructions.

"What on earth did you do that for?" called Mrs. Bowser from the head of the stairs.

"Because I'm going to give this dog a show," answered Mr. Bowser. "I'm going to give him something to eat and then study him."

It happened to be the cook's night off or there would have been a riot in the kitchen. As it was, Mr. Bowser cleared the pantry for the dog, and when there was nothing more to eat he returned to the sitting room. Mrs. Bowser came down just then to say:

"I never heard of such a silly thing in all my life. Why don't you turn him out?"

"Let me tell you something," replied Mr. Bowser. "There's a familiar look about that dog's face. There's an expression about the mouth which awakens a memory. Say, now, but just as true as you live one of the best friends I ever knew had just such an expression! Upon my word, I believe the soul of Will Baker, who died two years ago, has passed into this dog!"

"Then it had better pass out again. I'll open the door and you jump at him."

"I'll do nothing of the kind. That expression almost clinches my belief in transmigration. Suppose it should be the soul of my friend come back to earth again? See him look at me!"

Why, woman, that dog seems to understand every word I say!"

"Well, you can talk over old times with him, and I'll go upstairs," replied Mrs. Bowser. "If he suddenly runs mad and bites you don't blame any one but yourself."

"It's queer, mighty queer," mused Mr. Bowser after a long study of the dog's face. "That is Will Baker's mouth to a dot. If he comes back to earth in the form of a dog I'll not go back on him. A dog can't talk, but if this is poor Will there ought to be some way of making sure of it. Doggie!"

The dog didn't wait for him to finish. He lifted his head and indulged in a long drawn howl which made things rattle.

"For heaven's sake, but what is going on down there?" shouted Mrs. Bowser.

"The dog howled. I was going to ask him if the soul of Will Baker had returned to earth in this form when he—"

There was another howl. It was louder and longer than the other, and there was something so uncanny about it that Mr. Bowser found chills racing up and down his back. He determined to turn the soul of Will Baker into the street forthwith, but he instantly discovered an obstruction in his path. The soul objected—that is, the dog stood firmly planted on his feet before him and not only howled again, but finished up with a menacing growl and a vigorous scratching of the carpet with all four feet.

"What is it now?" shouted Mrs. Bowser.

"The blame can't be put on me! I believe he's going mad! You'd better open a front window and yell for the police!"

"We don't want to arouse the whole neighborhood and have them laughing at you. If that's the soul of your dearest friend he'll go out if you'll ask him to. Is the expression of the mouth the same as it was?"

"It's a heap worse! Can't you slip down and open the front door?"

Mrs. Bowser said she'd try it, but she didn't. The dog decided to take a view of the second story and made a start. She heard him coming and had just time to reach her bedroom and shut the door when he banged against it. He tore around for a minute or two and then got downstairs and drove Mr. Bowser on to the lounge and stood before him and growled and chuckled and gurgled in a way to freeze the blood. It was evident that the soul of Will Baker had shut his eyes and felt his helplessness when the family cat came to his rescue. She had been licked in the fight, but she had been taken by surprise and hadn't a fair show. Burning to recover her lost laurels after hiding for fifteen minutes under the bed, she had sneaked downstairs, and all of a sudden she landed on the dog's back. The soul of Mr. Bowser's old chum was both pained and surprised at the sharpness of her teeth and the length of her claws. He made two turns around the sitting room, three around the parlor, and then there was a smash, a crash and a howl.

With the cat clinging to his back and putting in ten hours a day the dog had taken a header through a parlor window, and the Bowsers were saved.

"And this," said Mrs. Bowser as she got downstairs and found Mr. Bowser pale faced and trembling and his knees bending under him—"this is transmigration, is it?"

"I thought—I thought"—he stammered, but she pointed to the broken window and interrupted:

"Yes, I know, and that's the result of it! You'd better let souls and dogs and transmigration alone and find some boards to nail over it till tomorrow!"

Mr. Bowser tried to work up a bluff and save his dignity, but it was a vain effort. There was a feeling as if a cold iron was being moved up and down his spine, and the wobble of his knees took his breath away.

WHAT WILL RELIEVE STOMACH TROUBLE

A Hard Question—But This Retired Ohio Farmer Answers It—Mr. Matteson's Statements Are Reliable.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio.—"I suffered from nervous dyspepsia and stomach trouble so that large lumps would seem to come up in my throat, and would get so dizzy I could not stand up or even see. I tried different remedies but nothing seemed to help me until one day my druggist told me about Vinol. I tried it and soon noticed an improvement and now I am well."—IRA T. MATTESON, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

Vinol seldom fails to strengthen and tone up the tired, overtaxed and weakened nerves of the digestive organs and remove the cause of indigestion and soon enables the sufferer to digest with ease the foods that once caused distress. Vinol also creates a healthy appetite and builds up the weakened run-down system.

We have such faith in Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, that we ask every tonic in this vicinity suffering from nervous dyspepsia or stomach trouble to try Vinol on our offer to return their purchase money if it fails to benefit.

HUMOR OF LINCOLN.

How the President Sized Up the Confederate Forces.

A visitor once asked Lincoln how many men the Confederates had in the field. The president replied very seriously:

"Twelve hundred thousand, according to the best authority."

The visitor paled as he said:

"Good heavens!"

"Yes, sir, 1,200,000. No doubt of it. You see, all of our generals when they get whipped say the enemy outnumbered them from three or five to one, and I must believe them. We have 400,000 men in the field, and three times four make twelve."

A delegation once waited upon Lincoln to ask the appointment of a certain man as commissioner to the Sandwich Islands. Besides his fitness for the place, they urged his bad health. But the president in reply said, "Gentlemen, I am sorry to say that there are eight other applicants for that place, and they are all sicker than your man."

A woman came to the White House one day on an unusual errand, which Lincoln suspected was a pretext, but he took her at her word and gave her the following note to a major of the quartermaster's department: "My dear sir, the lady bearer of this says she has two sons who want to work. Set them at it if possible. Wanting to work is so rare a merit that it should be encouraged. A. Lincoln."

The Largest Reptile.

The largest extant reptile is the man eating salt water crocodile of southern Asia and Australia, which, when full grown, measures thirty feet in length from end of nose to tip of tail. One man makes hardly more than a mouthful for this fearsome creature.

AMERICAN ACHIEVEMENTS.

Some of the Big Things to the Credit of This Great Country.

Americans founded the first government under which all men were equal before the law. Since the Declaration of Independence was published to the world the democratic idea has hourly received impulse until now its march seems irresistible.

Americans were the first to demonstrate the feasibility of relying on a citizen soldiery to defend the land and its institutions against foreign or domestic attack.

Americans were the first to abolish titular distinctions and to deprive social eminence of any support save character or the consensus of those who chose to consider themselves socially elect.

It was an American who invented the steamship.

An American invented the telegraph.

An American invented the telephone.

An American invented the electric light.

An American invented the reaper which makes it possible to feed the billion and more people on this planet.

It was an American, too, who invented the sewing machine.

Americans also were the conquerors of pain when they discovered how, by means of sulphuric ether, the tenderest human nerves could be made insensible to the surgeon's steel.

Americans opened the ports of Japan to the nations of the world, made a path into darkest Africa, and an American crowned the geographical achievements of his countrymen by discovering the north pole.—Pittsburgh Press.

Bolivia's Electrical Storms.

Owing to the peculiar topographical formation of Bolivia, electric and other phenomena are of constant occurrence, the principal zone where such disturbances take place being the Altiplano, or grand plateau. As the atmosphere is heavily charged with electricity both in summer and winter, dry or electric storms are of frequent occurrence both on the plateau and in the valleys. Before the rainy season sets in electrical accumulation becomes considerable on the plateau region, its most violent manifestations taking place toward the eastern section of the tablelands. An electrical storm in these regions is always a most imposing spectacle, as the tremendous force of the wind, almost equal to a hurricane, and the heavy electrical accumulation in the clouds produce terrible atmospheric explosions and violent detonations, while the surface of the ground sparkles and crackles.

Scattered.

Pat was employed on an engineering job a few miles out of the city and was carried to his work by an express train, which accommodatingly slowed up near the scene of his labors. One morning, however, the train rushed through the cut without reducing speed, and the superintendent of the job looked in vain for Pat. At last he saw a much battered Irishman limping back down the ties and called to him:

"Hello, Pat! Where did you get off?"

Pat turned stiffly and, waving his hand toward the steep embankment, sighed:

"Oh, all along here!"—Life.

Keeping Mulberry Leaves.

Mulberry leaves, the chief diet of silkworms, can be preserved for a long time in cold storage if placed in well ventilated boxes of not more than three cubic feet capacity at a temperature of between 33.8 and 36.6 degrees F. The silkworms eat them just as if they were fresh.—New York World.

Baths Without Water.

To have a bath without water is one of the latest novelties. A thick robe is entwined with wires, and when put on a current of electricity is passed through the wires. The wearer of the robe soon finds his body getting warmer until in a little while he perspires as freely as if he were in a Turkish bath.

lect of duty and extreme cruelty, and she asks for divorce, custody of a minor child and other relief.

The couple were married December 3, 1902, and the defendant is charged with deserting the plaintiff on December 25, 1914. Plaintiff states the defendant often has cursed and abused her, and upon numerous occasions has struck her.

MEN'S SUPPER LAUNCHES CANVAS

The Loyal Daughters served an excellent two-course supper to the men of the Church of Christ Wednesday evening at the church.

The purpose of the supper was to launch the "every member canvass" for the financial support of the church at the same time that special evangelistic services start, the first week of February.

The Artist's Quandary.

Prondley—If Dobleigh has finished his painting why doesn't he send it to the exhibition and let people see it? Emmerly—Because he's in a quandary about giving it a name. Some of his friends want him to enter it as "The Falls of Niagara," and others advise him to turn the canvas upside down and call it "A Yellowstone Park Geyser."—Puck.

Better Idea.

"Why are you late for school, Harold?"

"We had the most delicious pancakes for breakfast, and it takes a long time to make them. Mother sent you a note."

"Hum," sniffed the teacher. "Why didn't she send me a few of the pancakes?"—Kansas City Journal.
